Making soap with a melt and pour base is safe, easy, and convenient. The base has already gone through the saponification process, so you won't need to handle lye. First, purchase pre-made blocks of uncolored, unscented soap "base" from a craft store or soap supplier. The soap base is then melted in a microwave or a double boiler.

Unfortunately, this can be really confusing for beginners. Abbreviations make the process of "soap talk" so much easier because it reduces the amount of time, energy, and space needed to write down all of the information needed. I have compiled a short list of the most commonly used abbreviations used in the soap making world.
